About You

The ideal candidate is someone who has prior ministry experience and is able to work with a diverse range of congregations and lay leaders and delights in mentoring, discipleship and encouraging local believers across a wide geographical area.

The Town

Ouyen is located in north-west Victoria, with a population of around 1000 people. It serves as an important agricultural and service centre for the surrounding farming communities. The main agricultural industries are wheat, barley, and grain production, alongside livestock. Ouyen contains essential facilities, including schools, a hospital, supermarkets and sporting and community organisations.

The Facilities

Ouyen is the logical hub for ministry across the district. There is a church building and rectory available to a resident minister.

The Church

The church consists of a core congregation that has remained faithfully meeting despite the minister's position being vacant. The Parish Council and lay leadership will provide strong leadership and support to any future minister.
