

Rooted Enough to Believe: Faith That Moves the Impossible

A rooted life isn't just a stable life — it's a life capable of believing God for the impossible. And most of us have confused those two things. We want to be steady. We want to be safe. But Christine Caine opens this summer series with a provocation: the moment your situation stops being impossible is the moment you stop needing God. Roots aren't just for holding you in place. They're what make everything else possible.

WHERE IN YOUR LIFE ARE YOU PRAYING FOR A MIRACLE BUT AVOIDING THE STEP OF FAITH THAT WOULD PUT YOU IN A POSITION TO NEED ONE?

HAVE YOU ALLOWED THE HOLY SPIRIT TO REBUILD THE BROKEN WALLS INSIDE YOUR HEART, OR ARE YOU TRYING TO BUILD EXTERNALLY WHILE THE INTERNAL IS STILL IN RUINS? WHERE DO YOU NEED TO INVITE GOD'S HEALING WORK INSIDE BEFORE MOVING OUTWARD?

IN WHAT WAYS MIGHT PAST WOUNDS BE SHAPING HOW YOU SEE GOD TODAY? ASK GOD TO BEGIN HEALING THOSE WOUNDS.
